Dear Ruben,

It was so great to meet you last week. I truly enjoyed hearing your inspirational story of the trials and successes along your journey to meet your dream of becoming an Olympian. I know that the attendees at our Deloitte AERS Olympics were touched and motivated, and I'm sure that your words of encouragement will have an immeasurable effect on our Partners, Principals, Directors and employees.

I have received many accolades for recruiting you as our motivational speaker and you truly made me look like a hero! I can't wait to recommend you to some of our other planners within Deloitte Services LP, as well as to some of my colleagues in the meeting professionals industry.

Moreover, your book The Courage to Succeed is phenomenal! I've been reading it every night. Your straightforward, no-excuses-attitude is a great example of how to reach any goal, whether that be achieving outstanding sales or negotiating curves on the luge. Thanks again for sharing your insight and your courageous story of reaching your dreams.

Sincerely,

Lee Batson
